Surgeries Performed on Foster Animals

Critical Care

Animals transferred to PSPCA Veterinary Hospital

Animals entering ACCT receive routine medical examinations that cover general health, diagnostic testing, intake procedures such as deworming and flea treatment, and necessary vaccinations. Diagnostic tests for parvovirus, heartworm, FeLV and FIV are among the more common performed. All animals of an appropriate age and weight receive rabies vaccinations, as well as other core vaccinations such as FVRCP, DHLLP and Bordatella.
